

Treasured memories

This printable is an extract from Last Writes, feel free to share it and print as many as you need.

The spaces below let you write to someone who has made an impact on your life, whatever the nature and scale of their contribution. Here's where you can let them know how much they mean to you.

We encourage you to share this with the person while they are still alive or to use it as a blueprint to share your memories at their funeral or memorial service.
